

FARGO

CAULIFLOWER

Hybrid for early summer and autumn cropping. Deep solid white curds with strong upright leaves. Recommended for fresh market and industry. Highly productive with well protected curds. Yieldy, good selfcoverage. For late summer and autumn.

Varieties perform differently under different climatic conditions, and are usually only suitable for specific markets. For more elaborate information about this variety in a specific market, visit the assortments on our country websites, via www.bejo.com/countries. Our local crop specialists are happy to give additional tailor-made advise.