

WHITE GOLD

CAULIFLOWER

Early Romanesco. Productive and strong against white blister. Produces a nice curd with attractive, fresh green florets. This variety has many outerleaves and a good standing ability. Very strong against riceyness, bracting and red discoloration. It is suitable for harvest in summer/autumn.

Growing Days Planting INT : 70-98

Varieties perform differently under different climatic conditions, and are usually only suitable for specific markets. For more elaborate information about this variety in a specific market, visit the assortments on our country websites, via www.bejo.com/countries. Our local crop specialists are happy to give additional tailor-made advise.