

WINTERBOR

BORECOLE

A dark green variety, suitable for late winter, a medium tall hardy variety which produces strong, erect leaves. A late winter, hardy variety which produces strong, erect leaves. Leaves are dark green and curly. Very attractive with extraordinary high nutritive value.

Growing Days Planting INT : 110

Varieties perform differently under different climatic conditions, and are usually only suitable for specific markets. For more elaborate information about this variety in a specific market, visit the assortments on our country websites, via www.bejo.com/countries. Our local crop specialists are happy to give additional tailor-made advice.