

NEPTUNO

BRUSSELS SPROUTS

Strong variety with good standing ability. Produces good quality sprouts with an excellent taste. Medium sized sprout on tall upright stems. Very good resistance to white blister. Suitable for harvest from early November through December.

Growing Days Planting INT : 200

Varieties perform differently under different climatic conditions, and are usually only suitable for specific markets. For more elaborate information about this variety in a specific market, visit the assortments on our country websites, via www.bejo.com/countries. Our local crop specialists are happy to give additional tailor-made advise.