

DEFENDER

LEEK

Late autumn and winter leek for fresh market with a good standing ability. Long shank, upright type with a dark color, also for direct drilling. Easy to clean and easy to handle, flexible crop. A late variety with a good green colour. A good shank length with low sprouting and bolting.

Growing Days Planting INT : 140-150

Type Crop INT : Winter

Varieties perform differently under different climatic conditions, and are usually only suitable for specific markets. For more elaborate information about this variety in a specific market, visit the assortments on our country websites, via www.bejo.com/countries. Our local crop specialists are happy to give additional tailor-made advice.