

WALKER LEEK

New for cutting and industry: Walker F1. Hybrid of the Bulgarian Giant type - Leek with a long shaft. These types are very suitable as an industrial leek or as a pre-pack leek. This hybrid has several advantages: Stronger plant material, 30-40% higher yield, good uniformity, peelability and crop health. Average growing days of 115.

Growing Days Planting INT : 115

Type Crop INT : Early and summer

Varieties perform differently under different climatic conditions, and are usually only suitable for specific markets. For more elaborate information about this variety in a specific market, visit the assortments on our country websites, via www.bejo.com/countries. Our local crop specialists are happy to give additional tailor-made advise.